Foremost Woman Writer for Wilson.

New York, Oct. 12.—Ida M. Tarbell, foremost woman writer on public affairs, made a ringing speech for President Wilson here tonight before business and professional women. Other speakers were Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey; Walter Lippman, associate editor of "The New Republic"; Miss Annette Kellerman, the actress, and Mrs. Amos Pinchot.

Miss Tarbell said in part: "Mr. Wilson's record of four years is so packed with achievement that it seems to have left his opponent high and dry. So far he has thought of nothing to promise to do. In this dilemma he has confined himself to criticizing not Mr. Wilson's achievements—he could hardly do that since they are too obviously things that the country wants,—but, rather, the methods Mr. Wilson has followed in reaching his objects.

"I do not understand that Mr. Hughes objects to the country's being at peace, but rather to the means by which it has been kept at peace.

"I do not understand that Mr. Hughes objects to the federal reserve law, but rather to the fact that the law was not left as Mr. Aldrich left it.

"I do not understand that Mr. Hughes objects to an eight-hour day, but rather to conducting an experiment by which the question could be settled from facts instead of by a strike."

"Mr. Wilson believes in diplomacy, the use of brains, argument, self-control, in settling international disputes, Mr. Hughes seems to believe in settling them by force. Mr. Wilson believes that a measure like the federal reserve bill should be handled by the people. Mr. Hughes would leave it where Mr. Aldrich put it, in the hands of the few. Mr. Wilson prefers that a dispute like that between the railroad management and railroad labor should be worked out by experiment rather than by strike. Mr. Hughes would let them strike.

"It is a different way of looking at the world's problems. One is the way of the future, the other, that of the past.

"One is the way of the people, the other, the way of the few. One is the Americanism of Lincoln—the other that of Mark Hanna. Take your choice."

CARRANZA MEN DESERT.

Force of 10,000 Defeated and Then Join Felix Diaz Movement.

Laredo, Texas, Oct. 16.—Ten thousand and constitutional troops were defeated at Tehuacan Friday, October 6, and joined the Felix Diaz movement, according to seemingly reliable information reaching the border Sunday. This information says that a column of five thousand troops, under command of General Jose Ysabel Robles, sent against the revolutionists, declared themselves with their leader for Diaz, while another column of equal strength commanded by General Cesario Castro, likewise deserted the constitutionalists.

General Castro, who is governor of the state of Puebla, is said to have escaped in an automobile with his general staff, remaining true to General Carranza.

THE Goblins and Jinx may be abroad in the land every time that Friday chances to fall on the 13th of the month, and this very fact may defer some people from taking any chances with fate or tempt any accident that may terminate disastrously, but this fact held no terrors for the people of Lawrence Chapel who enjoyed a very pleasant birthday party, last Friday evening, which was also the 13th of the month, given by the Lawrence Chapel Mission Society, at the church. The evening was spent with old time recitations, songs and at the birthday offering a nice sum realized, closing with the serving of refreshments. This little church has had a remarkable growth this year and the members feel that its growth is due to the faithful and efficient service of their pastor, the Rev. R. I. Graham, whom they trust will continue with his work here.

The Guild will hold an all-day session at the Guild rooms tomorrow.

In addition a ladies' sextet sang much to the delight of the large congregation. The program lasted just one hour and each number followed in close succession. A solo by Miss Lottie Bond met with decided commendation, as well as a duet by Miss Bond and her sister, Mrs. Pruitt. The musical program was followed by a short sermon by Rev. Burns, on the subject, "The Three Meanest Men in Ardmore." He placed one in each of the following classes: "Hypocrites," "Moral Men" and "Hard Cases."

He is for the "Man."

New York, Oct. 16.—That honest business feels assured of a sound prosperity and is not deceived by the wall of votaries of predatory privilege is attested daily by letters sent voluntarily to the headquarters of the Democratic national committee. Among these is one from Pierrepont B. Noyes, president of the Onelda Community, Ltd., of Onelda, N. Y., manufacturers of the celebrated Community Silver and Onelda game traps—one of the leading industries in the state.

"This letter is to tell you that I am with you," writes Mr. Noyes. "I started life a Republican and stayed with that party until four years ago, when I became convinced that its in-expugnable worrying over the troubles of the rich stands permanently in the way of legislation benefitting the masses.

"My enthusiasm in this campaign is for the man—Woodrow Wilson. At such a time, the only safe leaders are men immensely right at heart, and I believe Mr. Wilson to be such a man. Failure to retain such a leader through these critical times would convict the American people of the blindest folly."

A similar letter, also from a man of big affairs, comes from H. F. Reiss, treasurer of the J. B. Colt Co., of New York City. Mr. Reiss writes:

"Since voting I have been a Republican in national elections. I can not, however, see my way clear to vote for Mr. Hughes, against the splendid, constructive record of Woodrow Wilson. The petty, mean know-nothingness of the Hughes campaign deserves only the repudiation of every right-thinking and patriotic American."

The NEW EDISON

Thomas A. Edison's favorite and probably greatest invention. This is the instrument which re-creates music with such absolute exactness that the living singer's voice cannot be distinguished from this new instrument's re-creation of it. This is the instrument which a leading New York newspaper calls "The Phonograph with a Soul."
